President's Palaver

Hello KOS Members,

The end of 2009 is near and in reflection, it has been a great year for KOS and its members. Last week's show was well attended; there were some beautiful plants exhibited, and best of all—lots of conversations among some of the best people in Kansas.

As is tradition, our December meeting will be brief—installation of new officers for 2010, and then we will enjoy a potluck meal before we move to KOS's infamous Orchid Bingo. Everyone is encouraged to bring a covered dish to share and to participate in the fast and furious bingo game—orchid plants are the prizes and no one goes home empty handed. Let's make this the best attended meeting of the year!

Just a note to thank all of you who have volunteered to help with the Society's activities—you are what makes one proud to say, "I am a KOS member"!

See you all at the meeting on December 6 (1:00 pm) at Botanica.

Mark Sanborn, President

Sarah Pratt, Fall Show Chairperson, reported fliers were available for members to take to advertise the show, orchid items (no plants please) are needed for the silent auction. Please put a reasonable minimum bid on auction items. Rose Meals, Hospitality Chairperson, had a sign-up sheet available for food items and for a co-hostess. Clerks are included with the judges breakfast Saturday. It was decided not to purchase advertising, as various local sources had been notified of the show. Plant registration will be in the Fireside Room at Botanica. Sarah has a photographer's frame to accomodate hanging plants.

Karlene Sanborn presented a report on the Arkansas show in Little Rock, with slides and comentary. She continued demonstrating how to groom and present plants at the show and how to complete aplant tag. She will also present a program on draculas at the noon luncheon at Botanica on November 4.

Members enjoyed refreshments while appreciating Show and Tell plants. Several members gave opportunity plants a new home. The Newsletter will be combined for November and December. There will be no meeting in November. Bring your favorite dish to share at the Christmas party at Botanica on December 6 at 1:00.
